When You Buy SHOES

Is it a question of how little I can pay, or How much value can I get for every dollar I pay?

Do you buy Quanrity or Quality? Every pair of Shoes in this store is built on the quality standard--every possible thing that means more quality, more service, more value, is crowded into it. So--if you buy your new shoes here, even though they cost you a little more--the increased cost means big measure of the increased value, and you will remember the better quality long after the increased cost is forgotten.

LIFE INSURANCE

The following letter is a copy forwarded by the General Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada to the Secretary of the Life Underwriters:

Montreal, August 11th, 1920

Geo. H. Hunt, Esq.,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of the 10th inst., in reference to the value of life insurance, I may say that our confidence in a borrower is always enhanced by the fact that he carries a life insurance policy. The wisdom of providing for unforseen contingencies is an indication of conservatism. Partnership and individual insurance policies assigned to the bank as collateral security for advances, have frequently saved the bank from loss when there was no other visible source of repayment, and saved the man's family from the stigma of debt. Yours truly,

E. L. Pease, Managing Director.

From Winnipeg the commission goes to Medicine Hat, where a meeting on Sept. 17th will be held before proceeding to British Columbia.

Valuable Car of Wheat

A record figure for a carload of wheat was established when the returns for the first car of wheat to reach Calgary, referred to some days ago in the Albertan, were made known Saturday. This car came from Coaldale, consigned to the Willard Cumong company, and sold to the Western Canada Flour Mills. It netted the farmer $4,429.58 less one percent commission charges. The car contained 1,702.10 bushels, and the price was $2.77½ bushel. Members of the grain exchange state this is the record for Calgary.

Where Dominion Got It's Name

The following story of the Dominion's christening is said to be authentic:

When it was decided to unite all the interests of Canada under one Government, in 1867, there was much discussion as to the name under which the united government should be known. Those who met in the cabinet made different suggestions, but none was big enough. One of the members, Sir Samuel L. Tilley, read that night the 72nd Psalm, and when he came to the eighth verse he said to himself there is the name for Canada. The next day he read the verse to his fellow members: "He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth." Pointing to a map, he called attention to the geographical position of Canada, literally, from sea to sea, and from the river of St. Lawrence to the end of the earth, as far as the earth extends. The suggestion was agreed to with one accord, and the new country has been called the Dominion of Canada ever since. No wonder Canadian call the 72nd Psalm the Psalm of Canada.

The Growing Responsibility of Labor

Significant of the change taking place in the minds of people as to the proper relationship which should exist between the individual and the public, or, perhaps, it would be more correct to say between the citizen and the State, is a decision of far-reaching importance recently arrived at by the Amalgamated Postal Workers' Association in convention assembled at Edmonton.

By an overwhelming majority the convention decided to delete from its bylaws the clause allowing members to join in sympathetic strikes. It will be recalled that two years ago the business of many Western cities was crippled and all but demoralized through strikes of post office employees, and that, as a result of congestion of mails, the whole country was put to inconvenience and loss. Again, last year, in the big Winnipeg strike the same thing occurred, notwithstanding that these employees were sworn servants of the State honorably bound to conduct the King's business no matter what might happen.

Now, however, the postal workers have by their own action declared that they will not countenance actions which bring inconvenience and suffering to all the people who are quite guiltless of having inflicted any injustice upon the workers and who are, as individuals, helpless to right wrongs and remove grievances which may exist. At the same time, and properly so, the Postal Workers' Association emphasized their determination to employ all legitimate and legal means at their disposal to uphold the dignity of their organization and secure betterments in wages, hours of service, and working conditions generally.

This action on the part of one important group of organized workers sounds the deathknell of the One Big Union plan of organization in this Dominion. The carrying out of the sinister plans of the O. B. U. is only possible, as its very name implies, by the banding together of workers in all walks of life in one big, overpowering organization which, by reason of its strength, and acting under orders from one central head, could defy all law, Governments and society in general. Unless all organized workers join the O. B. U it cannot succeed. Should it succeed the workers themselves would, in the long run, be the greatest sufferers.

The right of all workers to organize for their self protection, and in order to enable them to bargain efficiently with employers as to wages, hours of labor, and the conditions under which they are called upon to work, is now universally recognized. It is officially accepted in the labor clauses of the League of Nations covenant. But such recognition does not carry with it acceptance of the doctrine that a whole nation can be "held up" and denied the modern necessities of community existence unless any and every demand made is immediately and fully granted.

The strike weapon is an obsolete instrument for the redress of grievances. It is a two-edged sword, and inflicts as much, if not more, injury upon those who use it as upon those against whom it is directed. Methods of conciliation, negotiations looking to a compromise fair to all parties, the establishment of courts of arbitration, are not only a fairer but a much less costly way of arriving at a settlement of industrial disputes, just as they have been recognized in the League of Nations as the proper and Christian way of dealing with international differences.

Might does not constitute right. It never did; it never will, and they who resort to force are always liable to find themselves overcome by force. The strength of organized labor lies in the sympathy and support of the people generally, and when Labor resorts to any action which alienates public sympathy and support it ruins its own cause. The individual is no longer allowed to take the law into his own hands to adjust personal grievances against another individual. If he does, he finds himself in the clutches of that law which was created for his protection and which he ignored and failed to appeal to for redress. What the individual cannot do, organized bodies of individuals cannot be allowed to do.

In this age there should be established properly constituted courts for the adjustment of all industrial disputes, in whom all parties can have confidence, just as other courts have been established for the protection of individual and property rights of all kinds. It is a hopeful sign that organized workers, as represented by the Amalgamated Postal Workers' Association and certain other labor unions, are coming to recognize this fact. They will find the people supporting them, and their influence will be all the greater in future.

Bishops Will Endeavor to Establish Colony in Quebec

Leaders of the orthodox Mennonite church at Rhineland have decided to take their people to Abitibi, Que., and establish a colony there, Mr. J. F. Greenway, deputy minister of education, Winnipeg, has announced.

Mr. Greenway, who returned from a trip to Rhineland, where he organized public school districts, said he had the authority of one of the church elders, who was a member of the delegation which recently waited on Premier Taschereau, of Quebec, for his statement.

The impression prevails, said Mr. Greenway, that the exodus would take the church. Some will follow the bishop and elders, and others will remain in Manitoba. He had no information in regard to the probable number to go.

THE PRESENT OPPORTUNITY FOR CANADIAN STOCKMEN

JOHN BRIGHT
Dominion Live Stock Commissioner

A study of the live stock situation of the world at the present time cannot fail to convince any practical person that Canadian stockmen will have, in the immediate future, an exceptional opportunity for profitable trade. The question as yet unanswered is whether they will realize the situation in time so to conduct their operations as to take the fullest advantage of it. This is a matter of the utmost importance, not only from the standpoint of the individual farmer but also from a national standpoint.

While the national phase of the question may lie somewhat outside of the consideration of the average farmer, the matter of personal profit may be depended upon to make its own appeal. In considering the latter aspect of the case the stockman who is convinced that an unprecedented opportunity is presenting itself to develop the live stock business of Canada, should not lose sight of the essential factors that will make such development possible. The most important of these factors are:—

(1) The laying of the foundation now by conserving breeding stock;

(2) Improvement in the quality of live stock products by intelligent breeding—the use of good sires, the weeding out of all scrubs both male and female, consistent adherence to one breed, early castration of calves and lambs;

(3) Improvement in the care and feeding of young animals and improvement in the finishing of animals for market;

(4) The providing of a steady volume of trade by remaining continuously in the ranks of the live stock producers despite temporary and sometimes discouraging fluctuations in price as governed by the world's demand for live stock products.

Until the last two or three years, Canadian farmers have annually allowed useful female breeding stock, particularly cows and heifers to go to market in large numbers. While the rising prices of meats have checked this movement of late years, it must be admitted that even yet, at certain seasons of the year, there may be seen on any of our large markets females of good type and with many years of usefullness ahead of them. The country cannot afford to lose such animals at the present time and the prevention of their slaughter is one of the first and most important steps to be taken in conserving our breeding stock. Similarly, for many years, the high prices ruling for veal resulted in annually increasing receipts for calves on the live stock markets. While male calves of dairy blood formed a considerable percentage of such receipts, unfortunately many excellent calves both male and female, of good beef type, were slaughtered. The loss to the breeding herds and to the feeders' stalls was serious and we are even yet feeling the effects of this sacrifice of potential beef despite the fact that during the last two or three years there has been a marked falling off in the offerings of good calves. The prevention of such sacrifices will mark the second and supplementary step to the necessary to the conservation of our breeding stock.

While it is true that in many parts of Canada our live stock shows the evidence of careful consistent breeding, there is a very considerable area both in newer sections of the west and in the rougher sections of the older provinces in which no improvement has been effected in years Further, it is unfortunately the case that in some districts in the west the quality of the cattle is already showing signs of deterioration owing to the practice of foreign setters allowing scrub bulls and uncastrated yearlings to run with the herds. The importance of using only good sires is appreciated by a very large percentage of our farmers, but unfortunately such sires are not always used intelligently. Even in sections in which associations have been formed for the purpose of improving the live stock of the district, the practice of breeding to a sire of one breed for two or three years and then changing to a sire of another breed has been followed, with the natural result that practically no progress has been made. It has been well said that the average Canadian farmer is less conservative of the question of the breed of the live stock raised on his farm than any other question relating to his operations. It is time the fact was more generally realized that real progress can be made only by consistently sticking to one breed, by using the best sires obtainable in that breed and by systematically discarding females that do not prove their usefulness as animals of good type. Quality, which depends in the first place upon good blood is one of the most important considerations in live stock breeding and has an important bearing on the price ultimately realized for the product when turned into meat.

It does not require a very intimate knowledge of the methods followed in handling live stock farms of Canada to enable one to realize that too many farmers do not appreciate the importance of the first year or of the first few months, as the case may be, in the life of a young animal. It cannot be expected that a calf, no matter how well bred, is going to develop into a well grown breeding animal or into a profitable feeder if it has been allowed to practically raise itself during the first year of its life. In fact, in many of the more backward districts it would appear that money invested in well bred stock would be practically a total loss until the farmers are educated to feed and care for the offspring properly and give them a chance to develop. There are many sections to which, of course, the foregoing remarks do not apply, but the improvement that would be effected in our total annual live stock receipts by the more general practice of properly would be remarkable. It may be added that even in some of our better districts the cattle sent to market lack finish, and only an exceedingly small percentage of our heavy steers would be suitable for the British market. In addition the number of cattle sent out of the country in an unfinished condition as stockers and feeders last year was deplorable, particularly in view of the fact that never were larger quantities of feed available. Herein lies one of the most important questions to be solved in connection with the increase of our beef production.

"They're a bunch of bad ones," said Smythe; "a regular band of cutthroats. They know no law and they hold life as cheap as water. Big McTavish has incited the others against you. They swear they will kill you if you set foot on Bushwhackers Place."

"I'm not anxious to set foot onto Bushwhackers' Place providing I can secure the timber through an agent. But the timber I must have. I gave Watson money with which to start the ball rolling. Maybe I'll see that money again and maybe I won't. As I said before, I don't trust either you or Watson very far. But both of you know me."

"We will do our very utmost to get the timber," said Smythe; and as the Colonel turned toward him he added, "for you."

"It might be a good idea," said Hallibut. "As for those Bushwhackers, I'm not caring a cent what they think of me. I tried to show them that I was interested in their welfare by building that schoolhouse, that they might educate their children, and by giving it to them—it and the land it stands on. I've hired young Simpson to teach the school, or you did with my money, which amounts to the same, and after all this you say the Bushwhackers want to kill me. Grateful, aren't they?"

"If you hadn't built that mill after you had got possession of the timber—" faltered Smythe; but the Colonel interrupted him.

"See here, I built that mill on my own land, didn't I? Surely I don't have to ask permission from anybody else when I want to do anything with my own."

"I was merely going to say that the mill has driven the fur-bearing animals out of the creek," smiled Smythe. "The Bushwhackers say you have spoiled the best trapping, sir."

"Well, I'm sorry for that; but my intentions were good. I looked upon those people as a simple-hearted lot of men and women whose friendship was worth the winning. It's funny—me wanting friends at my age. But I'm getting old and fanciful, I guess."

Smythe scratched his chin and squinted along the beak-like nose as though he were aiming the remark at a crack in the floor, as he said:

"They're not particular about having the trees cut down. They live mostly by shooting and trapping. But I do know that two thousand acres of walnut, beech, and hickory is worth a fortune to somebody."

"Humph! And how long have you known that? Seems queer to me that you and Watson haven't tried to corner this timber for yourselves."

The storekeeper lifted his hands.

"Surely you know us better than that," he protested.

"I know dogs better than I do men," said Hallibut, "and I trust dogs. I've never seen many men that I could trust. It was a man stole the best thing I ever had in life."

"Ah," Mr. Smythe rubbed his hands together and smiled," a woman."

Hallibut looked at him, an expression of disgust on his face.

"Yes, but not the kind of women you know. This one was my sister."

"Just so," smiled the grocer; and then he whispered again, "just so."

"Did you or Watson tell the Bushwhackers what I intend to do with the boat?" asked Hallibut after a little time had elapsed.

"Yes, and they say that as soon as you try and put your schooner up Lee Creek there will be trouble. They told Watson to tell you so," said Smythe.

"So they warn me, eh?"

Hallibut left his chair and paced up and down the floor.

Smythe sat with a smile of satisfaction on his weasel-like face.

"Of course, they can't stop you from entering the harbor and sailing across Rond Eau; neither can they prevent you from sailing up the creek. But," he added impressively, "they can burn your boat."

"Don't talk foolishness," cried Hallibut. "They aren't quite crazy. If they tried anything like that on with me, I'd wipe 'em out; you hear me—wipe the whole bunch of 'em out."

"I think Mr. Watson and I may make some amicable arrangements with the misguided people," said Smythe.

"Well, see that you do. Neither of you are honest, and you should make a success of any job that requires underhand work. But this is a straight, fair, and square offer. See that you make the Bushwhackers understand that I want to treat them squarely."

He sat down and gazed across at Smythe. Slowly the purple died in his face, and he relighted his pipe and smoked it thoughtfully.

"It's hard to understand some men," he said "—mighty hard. But then it's mighty hard to understand some dogs, too. I've seen dogs, and owned 'em, intelligent enough to understand most everything I said to them. But somehow I never got to know their language. Still I'm called a dog's superior. Strange, isn't it? Now, your friend Watson reminds me of a dog that would wag and fawn all he could out of you."

He nodded his great head slowly and sent a cloud of smoke ceilingward.

"As the case stands, I've trusted him with my money. The question is, will he play square?"

Mr. Smythe opened his milk-blue eyes wide.

"Oh, you may trust him, my dear Colonel," he said earnestly. "Mr. Watson, Sir, is an honest servant; a faithful Christian."

"Humph, think so? Well, maybe you're right. I'm not feeling exactly like myself tonight, Smythe, and I'm fanciful, I guess. The fellow who's rigging my schooner told me a story this morning—not a nice story, either—and I've been thinking ever since about a poor woman who died with not a single friend near her. Here's the sailor's story:

"A man by the name of Watts, who was supposed to be a ferryman, lived on the Detroit River somewhere near Sandwich. A crippled sister kept house for him, and he, according to report, was a bad one all round. One night he brought across from the American side a woman and her baby. They had come a long distance, it seems, and the woman was sick—in fact, she was dying. This Watts saw she had money, and he took her to his home, where she died that very night. Before the end came she consigned the baby to the care of Watts and obtained a promise from him that he would try and find a man—the sailor couldn't remember the name—and place the baby, along with a certain parcel she was carrying, with him."

Smythe laughed uneasily.

"That was a pretty big contract for Watts to take on."

"Of course, he never intended to keep it," said Hallibut. "She gave him money with which to seek out her friends. The sailor says he put it in his pocket and let the County bury the poor woman."

"And the baby?" queried Smythe, his face twitching.

"I'm coming to that. It seems this Watts' hunchback sister was a good woman at heart. She wanted to keep the baby. But he sent the child away into the forest with an Indian on a wildgoose chase and kept the parcel."

Smythe made five dots on the paper before him.

"What was in the parcel?" he asked, wiping his eyes.

"The sailor didn't know, but it was reported to be money. You'll make me wish I hadn't told you this harrowing story, Smythe."

"Poor mother; poor little orphan," sighed the storekeeper.

The Colonel stared at him.

"Did I say that the baby's father had died?" he asked. "You're right though, its father was dead. The woman told Watts as much."

Hallibut arose and stretched his long arms. He was a man far past middle age, with iron-gray hair, a large face, and deep, kindly eyes. He stood over six-foot-two, was broad of shoulder, and straight as an arrow.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE

WIDESPREAD DISASTER FOLLOWS EARTH TREMORS.

Many Thousand Are Reported to be Injured in Violent Shock.

Rome.—Italy is again suffering from an earthquake disaster, the extent of which has not yet been measured. It is known, however, that hundreds of people have been killed and thousands injured. Many small towns and villages have been wrecked, and although assistance is being hurried from all parts of the country to the afflicted area, there is much suffering for want of food, medicines, and shelter for the people.

It is not yet possible to calculate how many hundreds are dead. The list up to this evening shows close to 400 already reported. There are many bodies under the ruins, and there are wounded also under the ruins who have not yet been reached by the rescuer. There are believed to be many thousands of injured, the hospitals at Spezia have already admitted 500, and 500 have been taken to other hospitals nearby. Improvised hospitals composed of tents are caring for others.

All classes are combining in their efforts to render aid. Survivors describe the shock as terrifying, the air was filled with choking, blinding dust, so thick that the sun was lost to view.

The great towers of medieval castles were shaken and partially destroyed. The Ducal Palace at Massacarara, which was the summer residence of Napoleon's sister, was seriously damaged.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and diggy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

Leniency Is A Failure

Lloyd George Says Guarantees of Good Behaviour Are Necessary In Ireland.

London.—Guarantees that attacks upon police in Ireland must cease are necessary before the government can consider the liberation of Terence McSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and other hunger strikers, says the London Times in discussion Premier Lloyd George's views on the subject as outlined in his interview at Viege, Switzerland.

"The policy of leniency has been tried three times already," says the newspaper. "After the Easter rebellion of 1916 a large number of prisoners were unconditionally released and twice since then the same thing has been done. The very men let out of prison at once engaged in fresh conspiracies and started murdering police in Ireland all over again."

The newspaper declares the government must either protect the forces in Ireland or withdraw them altogether. It points out that Premier Lloyd George made a distinction between the Sinn Fein, which is not "a criminal organization" and the "republican army" which is striving by force to dismember the British Empire.

French Object to American Interest

Rate For New Loan Calculated at 9.42 Per Cent.

Paris.—The French press, commenting on the new loan to be floated by the French government in the United States, comments on the rate of interest to be borne by the $100,000,000 issued which, with the charges and premium, is calculated at 9.42 per cent. This, it is noted, appears very high to the French people, unacquainted with the money situation in the United States. It is not unreasonable, however, the commentators explain, when compared with the average income from securities, with the bank rate and with the interest charged for recent loans in Switzerland and Belgium.

Aid for Housing Scheme

Proposal to Exchange Victory Bonds For Winnipeg Debentures.

Winnipeg.—Should the Provincial Government carry out Hon. Edward Brown's proposal to exchange $800,000 worth of Victory Bonds for city of Winnipeg debentures, the bonds will be realized without delay by the city, and the money loaned out to home builders under the civic housing scheme at seven per cent interest. A by-law authorizing this procedure was passed at a special meeting of the council. The $800,000 will allow about 75 more houses to be built this year.

Women Meet in Christiania

Discuss Problems Relating to Welfare of Individuals and Community.

Washington.—Women from countries that remained neutral and from those that took opposite ideas in the late war assembled in the first meeting since 1914 at the Quinquennial Congress of the International Council of Women, at Christiania, Norway, September 8 to 17.

The object of the congress is to provide a means of communication between women's organizations in all countries on questions relating to the welfare of the commonwealth, the family and the individual. Some 400 women have enrolled to attend.

Discussions will be held on such subjects as new lines in the system of education, international aspects of public health, the housing problem, the campaign against social diseases, and the League of Nations.

Delegates will be received in the Royal Palace by Queen Maud of Norway, the city of Christiania will tender a luncheon and they will be entertained by various civic societies. The meetings of the council are to be held in the Norwegian Parliament Building.

REASONS GIVEN FOR INCREASED RAILWAY RATES

JUDGMENT OF BOARD HAS BEEN ISSUED.

Advance in Wages and Operating Expenses Necessitated Raise In Rates.

Ottawa.—The judgment of the board of railway commissioners in the railway rate case, covering some 20 typewritten foolscap pages, has been issued. It was written by Hon. F. B. Carvell, chief commissioner, and is concurred in by four of the other five commissioners composing the board. It states the reasons of the board for arriving at the decision to grant increases in freight and passenger rates and emphasizes the fact that the railways have not received advances in rates consistent with the advancing cost of operation.

"I realize," said Mr. Carvell, "that these rates will be a substantial burden upon the people of Canada, but it was admitted by all parties at the hearing that the cost of everything entering into he operation and maincnance of railways has increased more than 100 per cent. in the last four years while the railway companies have been granted increases in what are known as the 15 per cent. and 25 per cent. cases, amounting on an average to not more than 35 per cent."

The judgment lays emphasis upon the fact that a large proportion of the increase granted will be taken up in maintaining the increased wages which the employees of Canadian railways will receive when the Chicago wage award schedule goes into effect in Canada.

At the hearing, it says, Howard G. Kelly, speaking for the Railway Association of Canada, stated that they had decided to pay the railway employees the rates granted to the American employees by the Chicago award, granting back pay to May 1 last, and on cross-examination, he frankly admitted that if they were not granted he firmly believed "there would be a general strike throughout Canada."

"Realizing the sincerity of his statement and the terrible results which would necessarily fall on the people of this country, as a whole, under such a contingency, I have taken his statement into consideration in adjusting the rates herein. It must not be forgotten that a very large part of the increase hereby granted will be necessary to take care of this increased wage, in the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company alone, amounting to nearly $22,000,000 per year."

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Peasey of London.

London, Ont.—"I suffered with periodic pains, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of remedies and had been treated by physicians, but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it, and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends, and all these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 200 Rectory Street, London Ont.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Not Satisfied With Increase

Railway Employees Want Advance of Thirty Per Cent. Over Present Scale.

Ottawa.—A. B. Mosher, grand president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, confirmed the statement that the recent increase of 20 per cent. did not satisfy the Canadian National Railways' employees and unskilled laborers. The employees demanded an increase of 30 per cent. of present wages.

The Canadian National Railway offered to apply the recent award of the United States Labor Board, which presented an increase of 20 per cent. over the McAdoo award of two years ago, to these employees, many of whom already through schedule arrangements, increases greater than those represented by the award of the United States Labor Board.

Committee representing the employees of eastern lines will resume negotiations with officials of the Canadian National Railways, but no arrangements have yet been made, Mr. Mosher said, for joint representation to be made before the Canadian National Railways and the Grand Trunk Railway.

About 5,000 employees are affected on the eastern lines of the Canadian National Railways.

Jugo-Slavs Want Albania

Troops Are Already in Possession of Towns.

Rome.—Jugo-Slavia intends to make itself master of Albania, it is declared here in the light of recent reports. Jugo-Slavian troops have occupied Tarabosh and are attacking Kastrati, Dibra and Elbassan. In the fighting at Dibra, the Jugo-Slavs have been repulsed, losing a number of cannon and machine guns. It is reported they lost 1,200 prisoners, Bosnian and Slovenian troops surrendering. Other attacks being made are progressing more favorably.

Not Concerned With Freight Problems

Liverpool Market Regulates Flour And Grain Price.

Toronto.—"The Liverpool price regulates that of flour and grain for the world," said a prominent Toronto milling firm manager this morning when asked if the increase in freight rates on the railways would affect the price of those commodities. "Liverpool is not concerned with our freight problems and is only anxious to buy in the cheapest market, but I think they cannot do better than in this country."

Winnipeg.—F. K. Herchmer, district inspector of forestry department, received news that bush fires at Norway House are under control. No loss of life or damage to buildings has been reported.

The bush fires in this district have been the worst recorded during the past ten years. Owing to lack of rain pasture has been completely dried up and farmers are already feeding stock.

London.—General Semenoff's adventures in the Far East have ended and his troops, under the leadership of General Lokhvitski, have gone over to the government of the Russian Far Eastern Republic, according to a wireless despatch from Moscow. RUSSIA NOW ANXIOUS TO RESTORE PEACE

WAR WITH POLAND WAS ONLY AN EPISODE.

Soviets Were Amazed at Allies Imposing Blockade of Russia.

London.—The Russian delegation in London, headed by M. Kameneff, has published the reply of M. Tchitcherin, the Bolshevik foreign minister, to the last note of Arthur J. Balfour, lord president of the council.

It is a long and argumentative document in justification of the soviet administration. It declares that in the face of the allied blockade of Russia, it is hardly in a position to express anything definite or anything but astonishment at the procedure.

The note reiterates that peace, in order to develop her possibilities, is Russia's fundamental aid, and declares that the war with Poland is only an episode in the struggle for peace.

The Polish appeal for mediation in her dispute with Lithuania will be considered at the next meeting of the League of Nations which will be held in Paris September 16. It will then be decided whether Lithuania, which is not a member of the league, will be asked to state its intentions.

This is similar to the procedure resorted to in the case of the Aland Islands, in which Finland, a non-member, was called upon, with Sweden's permission, to submit its argument.

Clemenceau to Hunt Tigers.

Paris.—Georges Clemenceau, the former French premier, will leave for Inia on Sept. 20 on board the steamer Iacordiller, sailing from Marseilles. He will land at Singapore, where a British ship will carry him to Calcutta.

M. Clemenceau will proceed to Himalaya to hunt the tiger, and will return to France about New Year's day.

Revolt in Moscow Against Bolshevik.

London.—Several serious revolts against the Russian Soviet government have broken out in the neighborhood of Moscow and have been suppressed with much bloodshed, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company filed in Copenhagen. It quotes telegrams received in that city from Riga.

ALL-ROUND PRODUCTION CANADA'S BEST COURSE

Not Advisable to Put all Our Eggs in One Basket—Wealth is Anything That Can be Sold

Mr. R. C. Reade writing in a recent issue of "Canadian Countryman" has some interesting comments on the development of Canada. Speaking of the present condition of the Dominion he says:

"Canada has come into line with the well-marked tendencies of world-wide economic progress, because her rulers have not hesitated to decide the economic shibboleth that all wealth must come from the soil and that a country with rich natural resources can never become prosperous except by exporting natural products as raw material for manufacturing nations. It is Canada, not Oxford, which is the home of lost causes if to-day there are in this country intelligent persons who do not believe that manufacturing is productive of wealth. That there are such in the West seems undoubted from the tenor of some of the grain growers' addresses presented to the late premier during his tour in 1910. It was then declared that agriculture was the sole basis of national prosperity and that the farmer does more for the good of the human race than any other class in the whole world. This is the economic wisdom wherein another member of what may be called the Government Homestead School of Political Economy declares 'a rural population living close to nature must inevitably be superior to people living in centres of population.' A common hatred of tariffs makes strange and hybrid alliances between a purely agricultural school of political economy and the famous Manchester school which was wedded to manufacturing. What has denominated the country's idealism in the matter of trade has been shown in steadily adhering to the basic economic principle that wealth, is anything that can be sold, whether wheat or steel rails. All Canadian products, tangible or intangible, whether carried in railway cars or entered in the ledgers of banks or loan companies, have been welcomed as contributions to national prosperity. The national eggs have not all been put in one basket. Stability has been sought by developing all possible modes of production. That is the lesson which has been drawn from the progress of the great nations of the world to-day. England, Germany and United States, which both produce and manufacture an immense variety of natural products. The Roman Empire, a prominent French economic writer has declared, perished from bankruptcy brought about by the lack of industrial organization. There were, no doubt, other causes as well but the structure tottered because unsteadily poised on only one pair of productiveness, namely, agriculture. The proverbial stagnation of China was due to the same cause. Its awakening will take place, as in the case of Japan, through the introduction of industries. And agriculture and industry are merely terms which, taken in combination, indicate the utmost possible development of a nation's mind as well as a nation's material resources."

Iron Shutters Cause Riots

Protection For Shops In Near East Source Of Trouble.

Iron shutters have probably caused more riots, massacres and pogroms in the Levant than political agitators. All shops in the Near East are provided with rolling iron shutters which work in iron grooves. When they are banged down they make as much noise as a machine-gun. Every time there is rumor of any sort of trouble some timid merchant slams down his shutters to protect his plate glass. Without investigating the cause, other merchants follow instantly with such a clatter that the public becomes panicky and rushes about trying to discover the cause of the flurry.

At such moments, excited crowds will credit any rumor which is put into circulation. Pickpockets await themselves of such opportunities. Soapbox orators, street fakirs and magicians gather crowds by this device. In any Turkish city the circulation of a rumor that a movement is to be started against Christians will cause all the Armenians and Greek shops to close within a few minutes, and frequently the noisy closing of the shops fans the religious hatred of the Moslems into action.

A Sure Sign That the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Care of Machinery

Implements Kept in Repair Give More Satisfactory Service.

Do not merely go through the motion but shelter machinery considerately, and before doing so, first list the repairs needed for next season and secure them along with an assortment of bolts, rivets, springs, etc., in time to have each implement repaired and ready for use on time. An implement in repair at all times will have a longer life and will give more satisfactory service during its life than one receiving irregular attention. Secondly, clean and oil each machine and give all polished surfaces an application of some anti-rust preparation. Axle grease or other lubricant will answer the purpose.

Minard's Liniment for Burns, Etc.

Australian war casualties were about the same as those of the United States.

A Pill for Brain Workers.—The man who works with his brains is more liable to derangement of the digestive system than the man who works with his hands, because the one calls upon his nervous energy while the other applies only his muscular strength. Brain fag begets irregularities of the stomach and liver, and the best remedy that can be used is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are specially compounded for such cases and all those who use them can certify to their superior power.

Lifeboats to Protect The Shipwrecked

New Life Raft Supplied With Artificial Heat.

The drawback to most of the existing forms of lifeboats or life-saving rafts is that the occupants are exposed to wind and sea, being drenched with spray in bad weather and having no means of warming or drying themselves. The invention of a Hull man bids fair to overcome this danger, as in his life-raft the shipwrecked are completely protected from the elements, and are plentifully supplied with air, and, if necessary, with artificial heat. Hitherto the chief difficulty has been to admit air into enclosed floating chambers while keeping out water in a rough sea, but this problem has been solved by an ingeniously contrived wire trap-door in the top of each chamber. In the full-sized raft it is proposed to make each tank eight feet square, giving accommodation for 25 persons, and provision for a wireless installation is to be made, where this is thought advisable. Ample room would be available for heating apparatus and for stores of food and drink.

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

Fishing by Telephone

Norwegian fishermen are adopting the telephone to warn them when great numbers of fish are about. The submarine war has taught them the value of the telephone. A microphone, which in the ordinary way is called the mouthpiece, is lowered from a fishing boat, and connected by a wire with the listening instrument in the boat.

Salmon Fisheries Satisfactory

"On the whole, the condition of the salmon fishery on the west coast is very satisfactory," said W. A. Found, assistant deputy minister of fisheries, who has recently returned to Ottawa after a prolonged inspection trip. "The run to the Fraser, while comparatively small, is considerably larger than was anticipated," he continued, "but this river can never be brought back to its maximum of productivity until some international agreement for its protection has been consummated."
